

Who is running your life right now?

Vedic astrology says a life moves in seasons. Each one is run by one of the nine planets for a fixed number of years, with a deputy inside it and an intern inside that. So if you are in a Mars season with a Venus deputy and a Sun intern, what does that actually feel like on a Tuesday?

This comic shows you. The nine planets move into your flat one after another: Saturn the Judge with his ledger, Venus with her brunch plans, Mars with a five a.m. drill, Rahu with a drone and a shopping bag, Jupiter with laddoos and advice. You live with each of them, argue with them, and learn what each season is asking of you.

Every chapter ends with plain homework for that season, and the last pages help you draw your own season map. A hard season is a season with a task, not a verdict.

Anushka Bharti is a practising astrologer and the author of Astrology, Gently.

This is the comic edition of Your Life in Seasons.

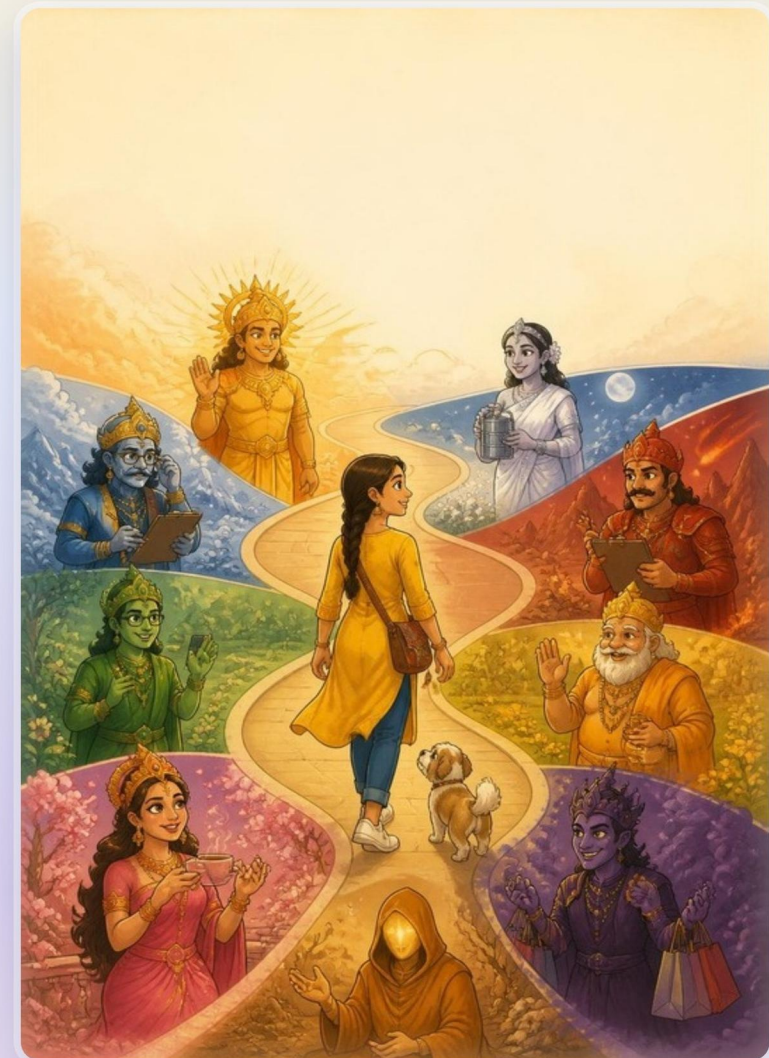

ISBN barcode area

Your Life in Seasons: The Comic · Anushka Bharti

ASTROLOGY, GENTLY · BOOK TWO

Your Life in Seasons

A comic book about the dascha system:
the nine planets who take turns running your life

Nine planets. One management team.
Nobody asked you first.

Anushka Bharti